DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In response to the Amendment received on January 03, 2008, the examiner has carefully considered the amendments. The claim rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 112, 2nd paragraph for claims 1-7, 9, 11-13, and 20-22 have been overcome by the amendment and has hereby been withdrawn for consideration.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-7, 9, 11-13 and 20-22 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art, alone or in combination, fails to teach and/or fairly suggest a combination of a fuel and a lubricant for an internal combustion engine, wherein said lubricant comprises an oil of lubricating viscosity and said lubricant is characterized by having an ash content below 1.0 wt% and at least one property selected from the group consisting of (i) a phosphorus content of less than 0.05 wt%, (ii) a sulfur content of less than 0.5--wt% and (iii) a chlorine content of less than 100 ppm and said fuel is an emulsified fuel as found in instant claim 1. Additionally, the prior art fails to teach an internal combustion engine comprising the above described and instantly claimed combination of a fuel and lubricant.

4. The closest prior art would be to WO 01/97952 which teaches emulsified fuels for combustion engines. The instant invention is distinguished over the closest prior art because WO 01/97952 fails to teach the required lubricant and the specific emulsifiers utilized in the present invention. The combination of WO 01/97952 with Filippini et al (2004/0111957), Mullay et al (2004/0111955), JP 57-055995, WO 2002/79353 or EP 242832 and either WO 02/24842 or Carrick et al (6,583,092) fails to render the instant invention obvious because while the secondary references teaches lubricants for use in combustion engines they fail to teach lubricants that are characterized as instantly claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
